Dear Eddie,

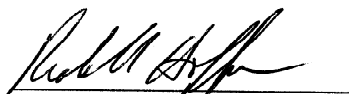

Hughes Network Systems is pleased to honor Acorn-Gencon Plastics for their valuable support of the Hughes Spaceway program. In recognition of this support, we are pleased to present you with a small token of our appreciation.

The enclosed award shows the actual moment of lift off of our SPACEWAY 3 satellite during its successful launch on August 14, 2007.

Our new SPACEWAY platform represents the largest step forward in the history of satellite communications. This new satellite broadband platform will form the basis for the next generation of our HughesNet[®] service.

We look forward to your continued support as we develop and expand the market opportunities that this technology enables.

Sincerely,

Randall Hoffman
